

UNDERWATER

The Logan Diving & Salvage underwater welding crew. (L-R) Mike Slattery, Diving Supervisor Chris Davis, Diving Supervisor Eric Church, Ryan Trentman, Aaron Hampton, & Brian Thomas after successfully wet welding 55,000 pounds of 120-pound anodes in a span of 30 days.

Logan Diving & Salvage's Scott Anderson on the deck of the Defiant while performing salvage operation in Port Canaveral, Florida.

Diver Scott Anderson, of Logan Diving & Salvage, entering the water to install a 36" three piece extended range clamp on a failed pipeline in Georgia's Savannah River.

Logan's Pat Haldeman, on a US Army Corp of Engineers job in South Florida with Dennis Wilson standing by for gators.

(Below) Logan diver Chris Davis performs towed sonar array repairs to a Royal Navy Submarine in Jacksonville, Florida.

Logan's Chris Davis on a dam trash rack guide near Richmond, Virginia.

